

James Lind Alliance Vitiligo Priority Setting Partnership – interim prioritisation invitation

HAVE YOUR SAY IN RESEARCH INTO VITILIGO

Do you or a member of your family have vitiligo or are you a healthcare practitioner with an interest in the condition?
If yes, we need your help!

Researchers at the University of Nottingham are conducting a study which aims to identify and decide the most important research questions for the treatment of vitiligo.

We have collected many potential research questions from patients and clinicians and now we need your help to rank these questions.

Please choose your TOP 3 questions from our list at www.vitiligostudy.org.uk

or contact us directly if you would prefer a paper copy of the questions.
Paper copy of the questions is also available to download at the .
