

Do you have questions about diabetes and pregnancy?

Tell us and help change lives

Your questions can help us to find important areas to research in order to improve the healthcare and wellbeing of women and families affected by diabetes in pregnancy.

If you have any interest, worries or experiences in pregnancy with diabetes of any type, we want to hear your questions. This can be anything about the time before, during or after pregnancy with diabetes of any type e.g. type 1, type 2, MODY, gestational diabetes and others.

Please tell us your questions here: https://bit.ly/2WSM256

Please share with others who may be interested. Thank you.
